NEW STUDENTS

New student orientation kicked off the school year on Aug. 14. Following a brief welcome and presentation by campus clubs, students enjoyed tours, Entrada tutorials, library and social networking sessions, free Monical's pizza for lunch, Student Services presentations, and the distribution of student identification cards.

Harris is interim president

Lincoln Trail College Dean of Instruction Kathryn Harris of Robinson was recently named interim president of the college.

The dean has been in her current position for three years and has served the college since 1981 as an instructor of education, physical education and speech; women's basketball and softball coach; athletic director; pool manager; academic advisor; and Student Senate sponsor.

Additionally, she has assisted with curriculum development and has been a region representative for the Illinois Articulation Initiative.

Harris received a bachelor's degree from Michigan State University and a master's degree in education from the University of North Dakota.

EMR offered online this fall

To make obtaining a certificate more convenient for its employed students, Lincoln Trail College is now offering its Electronic Medical Records certificate completely online.

EMR technicians review medical records to ascertain accuracy with regard to treatment procedures and coding, preparation of files for long-term storage, compilations of statistics and data for use by other medical personnel, preparation of medical reports, and provision of access to medical information by third parties.

To complete the program, students are required to complete an internship in a health care environment and can take the CMAA/CBCS through the National Healthcareer Association to become a certified Billing Coding Specialist. Students are also eligible to sit for the Electronic Health Records exam to become an Electronic Health Records Specialist.

Graduates of this one-year program find job opportunities in hospitals, clinics, health planning agencies, insurance companies, nursing homes, health maintenance organizations and ambulatory care centers.

Sandra Burtron, chief nursing officer at Crawford Memorial Hospital, said hospitals and clinics will be need to be completely electronic by 2014 to meet Medicare reimbursement guidelines. Typically, whatever guidelines are made by Medicare, private insurance follows for payment with the same policies.

Moving to an electronic record-keeping system, however, has its benefits. Transfer of information between medical professionals is easier, especially when you have to change doctors or records need to be transferred; E-records take up less physical space; they are easier to read than handwritten files which means fewer mistakes; patient files can be viewed simultaneously by medical professionals in other places; files are more secure; and records are updated in real time, so they are more accurate.

To register, or for more information on the Electronic Medical Records program, contact Pauletta Gullett at Lincoln Trail College, (618) 544-8657, ext. 1383.

Auditions for Lincoln Trail College's fall production of "Almost, Maine" by John Cariani will be at 6 p.m. Aug. 26 and 27 in the Zwermann Arts Center Theater.

The play tells the story of nine couples and their complicated relationships set against the backdrop of a small town in northern Maine. Each of the scenes takes place at the same time and tells the story of what happens to people in a heartbeat – one moment in time. The play can be performed by as few actors as four and as many at 19 – 18 actors, at least 16 years or older, are preferred.

The couples include: Pete and Ginette, who have been dating for a little while; East, a repairman, and Glory, a hiker; Jimmy, a heating and cooling guy, and Sandrine, his ex-girlfriend and a salty waitress; Marvalyn, a woman good at protecting herself, and Steve, an open, kind fellow; Gayle and Lendall, long-time boyfriend and girlfriend; Randy and Chad, two country boys; Phil, a working man, and Marci, his hardworking wife; Hope, who has traveled the world, and a Man, who has not; and Rhonda, a tough woman, and Dave, the not-so-tough man who loves her.

Audition packets are available in the LTC Performing Arts Office and also online by searching "Almost Maine script." Actors need only attend one audition session.
